U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) generally have lower yields than conventional fixed rate bonds and will likely decline in price during periods of deflation, which could result in losses.

The Investment Environment

For the 12-month reporting period ended August 31, 2023, the ongoing war between Russia and Ukraine weighed on the global economy, but the U.S. economy continued to show unexpected resiliency. Inflation remained elevated—although down significantly from recent highs—and the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) continued to raise interest rates, driving yields on taxable bonds up and resulting in negative returns for most U.S. fixed-income markets. (Bond yields and bond prices typically move in opposite directions.) For the reporting period, the Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index, representing the broad U.S. bond market, returned –1.19%, while the Bloomberg US Government/Credit 1-5 Year Index returned 1.19%. The Bloomberg US Treasury Inflation–Linked Bond Index (Series–L)SM returned –3.68%.

Despite some volatility over the reporting period, yields on U.S. Treasuries climbed, particularly during the second half of the period. There were a few short-lived yet market-moving events over the reporting period. The failure of three U.S. regional banks in early March raised concerns about the stability of the banking sector. In addition, debt ceiling negotiations during the second quarter of 2023 created fear that the federal government could default on its obligations and on August 1, 2023, Fitch Ratings downgraded long-term U.S. debt from AAA to AA+ after indicating earlier in the year that a country refusing to pay its debts in a timely way was not entitled to a AAA rating. The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury began the reporting period at 3.15%, hit a 15-year high of 4.34% in late August, and ended the period at 4.09%. Following the course of the Fed's interest-rate hikes, the yield on the three-month U.S. Treasury climbed from 2.96% to 5.56%, resulting in the yield curve inverting for a large portion of the reporting period.

The U.S. economy continued to show unexpected resilience. U.S. gross domestic product (GDP) growth was positive for the third and fourth quarters of 2022 and the first and second quarters of 2023. Inflation generally declined throughout the reporting period, though it remained above the Fed's historical 2% target and rose slightly in July and August. Consumer spending remained strong as consumers continued to spend down the significant savings they accumulated during the COVID-19 pandemic. The unemployment rate remained low throughout the period despite inflationary pressures. However, unemployment unexpectedly jumped in August largely as a result of an increase in the labor force participation rate (the proportion of working-age Americans who have a job or are looking for one) which rose to its highest level since February 2020, just prior to the COVID-19 pandemic declaration.

YIELDS OF U.S. TREASURY SECURITIES: EFFECTIVE YIELDS OF THREE-MONTH, TWO-YEAR AND TEN-YEAR TREASURIES

Yields, or interest rates, represent the cost of borrowing money. Rapid economic growth, waning investor interest in bonds, an increase in the issuance of bonds, or the expectation of higher inflation can drive rates up, while the opposite conditions can push rates down.

In its efforts to lower inflation, the Fed raised interest rates seven times over the reporting period, with the federal funds rate ending in a range of 5.25% to 5.50%. However, the likelihood of further increases began to temper, as evidenced by the Fed's pause on rate hikes at its June meeting before a 0.25% increase in July supported by consumer spending and a tight labor market. The Fed's efforts to reduce the assets held on its balance sheet were effective over the reporting period, though its balance sheet spiked in early March when the Fed supported banks after the failure of three U.S. regional banks. Central banks outside the United States also battled with persistently high inflation. The European Central Bank raised its interest rates seven times during the reporting period, matching its previous high in 2000. The Bank of England raised its rate eight times during the reporting period, bringing borrowing costs to a 15-year high. In contrast, the Bank of Japan continued to uphold its short-term interest rate target of -0.1%, unchanged since 2016, despite inflationary pressures.

Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund

The Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund's (the fund) goal is to track as closely as possible, before fees and expenses, the total return of an index composed of inflation-protected U.S. Treasury securities. To pursue its goal, the fund generally invests in securities that are included in the Bloomberg US Treasury Inflation-Linked Bond Index (Series-L)SM (the comparative index). Under normal circumstances, the fund will invest at least 90% of its net assets (including, for this purpose, any borrowings for investment purposes) in securities included in the comparative index. For more information about the fund's investment objective and principal investment strategies, please see the fund's prospectus.

Shorter-term securities generally posted positive returns and longer-term bonds generally posted negative returns for the reporting period. Despite some volatility, yields on U.S. Treasuries climbed, particularly in the second half of the period. The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury began the reporting period at 3.15%, hit a 15-year high of 4.34% in late August, and ended the period at 4.09%. Performance. The fund returned -3.67% for the 12-month period ended August 31, 2023, while the comparative index returned -3.68%.

Fund Expenses (Unaudited)

EXAMPLES FOR A $1,000 INVESTMENT

As a fund shareholder, you may incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees.

The expense examples below are intended to help you understand your ongoing cost (in dollars) of investing in a fund and to compare this cost with the ongoing cost of investing in other mutual funds. These examples are based on an investment of $1,000 invested for six months beginning March 1, 2023 and held through August 31, 2023.

Actual Return lines in the table below provide information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use this information, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. To do so, simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value \div $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number given for your fund under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period."

Hypothetical Return lines in the table below provide information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on a fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed return of 5% per year before expenses. Because the return used is not an actual return, it may not be used to estimate the actual ending account value or expenses you paid for the period.

You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, the hypothetical return lines of the table are useful in comparing ongoing costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Portfolio Holdings as of August 31, 2023

This section shows all the securities in the fund's portfolio and their values as of the report date.

The fund files its complete schedule of portfolio holdings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for the first and third quarters of each fiscal year on Form N-PORT Part F. The fund's Form N-PORT Part F is available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. You can also obtain this information at no cost on the fund's website at www.schwabassetmanagement.com/schwabfunds prospectus, by calling 1-866-414-6349, or by sending an email request to orders@mysummaryprospectus.com. The fund also makes available its complete schedule of portfolio holdings 15 to 20 days after the end of the month on the fund's website.

For fixed-rate securities, the rate shown is the interest rate (the rate established when the security was issued). For variable-rate securities, the rate shown is the rate as of the report date based on each security's rate reset date. The reference rate and spread used is shown parenthetically in the security description, if available; if not, the reference rate is described in a footnote. The maturity date shown for all the securities is the final legal maturity. Inflation-protected securities are fixed-income securities whose principal value is periodically adjusted by the rate of inflation. The interest rate on these instruments is generally lower at issuance than typical bonds or notes. Over the life of an inflation-indexed instrument interest will be paid based on a principal value, which is adjusted for any inflation or deflation.

Financial Notes

1. Business Structure of the Funds:

Each of the funds in this report is a series of Schwab Investments (the trust), a no-load, open-end management investment company. The trust is organized as a Massachusetts business trust and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act). The list below shows all the funds in the trust as of the end of the period, including the funds discussed in this report, which are highlighted:

SCHWAB INVESTMENTS (ORGANIZED OCTOBER 26, 1990)

Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund Schwab Tax-Free Bond Fund Schwab California Tax-Free Bond Fund Schwab Opportunistic Municipal Bond Fund Schwab 1000 Index Fund Schwab Global Real Estate Fund

Each fund in this report offers one share class. Shares are bought and sold at closing net asset value per share (NAV), which is the price for all outstanding shares of a fund. Each share has a par value of 1/1,000 of a cent, and the funds' Board of Trustees (the Board) may authorize the issuance of as many shares as necessary.

Each fund maintains its own account for purposes of holding assets and accounting, and is considered a separate entity for tax purposes. Within its account, each fund may also keep certain assets in segregated accounts, as required by securities law. The "Fund Complex" includes The Charles Schwab Family of Funds, Schwab Capital Trust, Schwab Investments, Schwab Annuity Portfolios, Schwab Strategic Trust and Laudus Trust.

2. Significant Accounting Policies:

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies the funds use in their preparation of financial statements. The funds follow the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standard Codification Topic 946 Financial Services — Investment Companies. The accounting policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

The funds may invest in certain mutual funds which are referred to as "underlying funds". For more information about the underlying funds' operations and policies, please refer to those funds' semiannual and annual reports, which are filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and are available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

(a) Security Valuation:

Pursuant to Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act, the Board has designated authority to a Valuation Designee, the funds' investment adviser, to make fair valuation determinations under adopted procedures, subject to Board oversight. The investment adviser has formed a Pricing Committee to administer the pricing and valuation of portfolio securities and other assets and liabilities as well as to ensure that prices used for internal purposes or provided by third parties reasonably reflect fair value. The Valuation Designee may utilize independent pricing services, quotations from securities and financial instrument dealers and other market sources to determine fair value.

Securities held in the funds' portfolio are valued every business day. The following valuation policies and procedures are used by the Valuation Designee to value various types of securities:

- Bonds and notes: Fixed income investments are generally valued using an evaluated price at the mid-point of the bid/ask spread provided by an approved, independent pricing service (mid-price). To determine the evaluated mid-price, a pricing service may use a variety of techniques and inputs. Techniques may include, but are not limited to, spread models that calculate an investment-specific price relative to a benchmark or yield curve models that establish a price based on yields of comparable bonds along a range of maturities. Inputs differ by valuation approach and technique, as appropriate, and examples of inputs may include, but are not limited to, interest rates, market conditions, comparable bonds, market trades, projected cash flows, credit reviews and issuer news.
- Short-term securities (60 days or less to maturity): Securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less are generally valued at an evaluated price; however, such securities may be valued at their amortized cost if it approximates the security's fair value.
- Mutual funds: Mutual funds are valued at their respective NAVs.

• Securities for which no quoted value is available: The Valuation Designee has adopted procedures to fair value a fund's securities when market prices are not "readily available" or are unreliable. For example, a security may be fair valued when it's de-listed or its trading is halted or suspended; when a security's primary pricing source is unable or unwilling to provide a price; or when a security's primary trading market is closed during regular market hours. Fair value determinations are made in good faith in accordance with adopted valuation procedures. The Valuation Designee considers a number of factors, including unobservable market inputs, when arriving at fair value. The Valuation Designee may employ methods such as the review of related or comparable assets or liabilities, related market activities, recent transactions, market multiples, book values, transactional back-testing, disposition analysis and other relevant information. Due to the subjective and variable nature of fair value pricing, there can be no assurance that a fund could obtain the fair value assigned to the security upon the sale of such security.

In accordance with the authoritative guidance on fair value measurements and disclosures under GAAP, the funds disclose the fair value of their investments in a hierarchy that prioritizes the significant inputs to valuation methods used to measure the fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to valuations based upon unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to valuations based upon unobservable inputs that are significant to the valuation (Level 3 measurements). If inputs used to measure the financial instruments fall within different levels of the hierarchy, the categorization is based on the lowest level input that is significant to the valuation. If it is determined that either the volume and/or level of activity for an asset or liability has significantly decreased (from normal conditions for that asset or liability) or price quotations or observable inputs are not associated with orderly transactions, increased analysis and the Valuation Designee's judgment will be required to estimate fair value.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical investments Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets. These generally include active listed equities, mutual funds, ETFs and futures contracts. Mutual funds and ETFs are classified as Level 1 prices, without consideration to the classification level of the underlying securities held.
- Level 2 other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.) Investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but whose values are based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or valuations provided by alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified as Level 2 prices. These generally include U.S. government and sovereign obligations, most government agency securities, investment-grade corporate bonds, certain mortgage products, less liquid listed equities, and state, municipal and provincial obligations.
- Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (including the Valuation Designee's assumptions in determining the fair value of investments) Investments whose values are classified as Level 3 prices have significant unobservable inputs, as they may trade infrequently or not at all. When observable prices are not readily available for these securities, one or more valuation methods are used for which sufficient and reliable data is available. The inputs used in estimating the value of Level 3 prices may include the original transaction price, quoted prices for similar securities or assets in active markets, completed or pending third-party transactions in the underlying investment or comparable issuers, and changes in financial ratios or cash flows. Level 3 prices may also be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, with the amount of such discount estimated in the absence of market information. Assumptions used due to the lack of observable inputs may significantly impact the resulting fair value and therefore a fund's results of operations.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The levels associated with valuing the funds' investments as of August 31, 2023 are disclosed in each fund's Portfolio Holdings.

(b) Accounting Policies for certain Portfolio Investments (if held):

Inflation-Protected Securities: The Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund invests in U.S. Treasury inflation-protected securities (TIPS). Inflation-protected securities are fixed-income securities whose principal value is periodically adjusted to the rate of inflation. The interest rate on these instruments is generally fixed at issuance at a rate lower than typical bonds or notes. Over the life of an inflation-indexed instrument, however, interest will be paid based on a principal value, which is adjusted for any inflation or deflation. Any increase or decrease in the principal amount of an inflation-protected security will be included as an addition or reduction to interest income in the fund's Statement of Operations, even though investors do not receive their principal until maturity.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued):

TBA Commitments: The funds may enter into "TBA" (to-be-announced) commitments to purchase or sell securities for a fixed price at a future date. Payments or proceeds of TBA commitments are not delivered until the contractual settlement date. Unsettled TBA commitments are valued at the current fair value generally according to the procedures described above in the Security Valuation section. The funds' use of TBA commitments may cause the funds to experience higher portfolio turnover and higher transaction costs.

Agency MBS and TBA Transactions: The Treasury Market Practices Group (TMPG) of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York recommended the margining of certain forward-settling Agency MBS (Mortgage-Backed Securities) transactions, including TBAs, to reduce counterparty credit risk. The TMPG recommended market participants exchange two-way variation margin on a regular basis. The Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund posts and receives variation margin with certain counterparties in instances where the unrealized gain (loss) on such transactions exceeds certain pre-determined thresholds. The variation margin, if any, is disclosed in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Delayed-Delivery and When-Issued Transactions: The funds may transact in securities on a delayed-delivery or when-issued basis. Payment and delivery may take place after the customary settlement period for that security. The price of the underlying securities and the date when the securities will be delivered and paid for are fixed at the time the transaction is negotiated. The securities purchased on a delayed-delivery or when-issued basis are identified as such in the funds' Portfolio Holdings, if any. The funds may receive compensation for interest forgone in the purchase of a delayed-delivery or when-issued security. Losses may arise due to changes in the value of the underlying securities or if the counterparty does not perform under the contract's terms, or if the issuer does not issue the securities due to political, economic, or other factors. The funds comply with Rule 18f-4 under the 1940 Act, the funds operate as limited derivatives users, with respect to purchase commitments held within the funds, portfolio securities are no longer required to be segregated as collateral with a value at least equal to the amount of a purchase commitment and the funds' exposure is monitored under a derivatives risk management program.

Securities Lending: Under the trust's Securities Lending Program, a fund (lender) may make short-term loans of its securities to another party (borrower) to generate additional revenue for the fund. The borrower pledges collateral in the form of cash, securities issued or fully guaranteed by the U.S. government or foreign governments, or letters of credit issued by a bank. Collateral at the individual loan level is required to be maintained on a daily marked-to-market basis in an amount at least equal to the current value of the securities loaned. The lending agent provides a fund with indemnification against borrower default (the borrower fails to return the security on loan) reducing the risk of loss as a result of default. The cash collateral of securities loaned is currently invested in money market portfolios operating pursuant to Rule 2a-7 under the 1940 Act. Each fund bears the risk of loss with respect to the investment of cash collateral. The terms of the securities lending agreement allow the funds or the lending agent to terminate any loan at any given time and the securities must be returned within the earlier of the standard trade settlement period or the specified time period under the relevant securities lending agreement. Securities lending income, as disclosed in each fund's Statement of Operations, if applicable, represents the income earned from the investment of the cash collateral plus any fees paid by borrowers, less the fees paid to the lending agent and broker rebates which are subject to adjustments pursuant to the securities lending agreement. On loans not collateralized by cash, a fee is received from the borrower, and is allocated between a fund and the lending agent. The aggregate fair value of securities loaned will not at any time exceed one-third of the total assets of a fund, including collateral received from the loan. Securities lending fees paid to the unaffiliated lending agents start at 9% of gross lending revenue, with subsequent breakpoints to a low of 5%. In this context, the gross lending revenue equals the income received from the investment of cash collateral and fees paid by borrowers less any rebates paid to the borrowers. Any expenses charged by the cash collateral fund are in addition to these fees. All remaining revenue is retained by the fund, as applicable. No portion of lending revenue is paid to or retained by the investment adviser or any of its affiliates.

As of August 31, 2023, the Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund and Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund had securities on loan, all of which were classified as corporate bonds. The value of the securities on loan and the related collateral as of August 31, 2023, are disclosed in the fund's Portfolio Holdings and Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

(c) Security Transactions:

Security transactions are recorded as of the date the order to buy or sell the security is executed. Realized gains and losses from security transactions are based on the identified costs of the securities involved. Gains and losses from paydowns on mortgage and asset backed securities are recorded as adjustments to interest income.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued):

(d) Investment Income:

Interest income is recorded as it accrues. If a fund buys a debt security at a discount (less than face value) or a premium (more than face value), it amortizes premiums and accretes discounts from the purchase settlement date up to maturity. The fund then increases (in the case of discounts) or reduces (in the case of premiums) the income it records from the security. Certain securities may be callable (meaning that the issuer has the option to pay it off before its maturity date). The fund amortizes the premium and accretes the discount on each callable security to the security's maturity date, except when the purchase price is higher than the call price at the security's call date (in which case the premium is amortized to the call date). Any increase or decrease in the principal amount of an inflation-protected security is included as an addition or reduction to interest income in the Statement of Operations; such adjustments may have a significant impact on a fund's distributions. Dividends from underlying funds are recorded on the date they are effective (the ex-dividend date). Any distributions from underlying funds are recorded in accordance with the character of the distributions as designated by the underlying funds.

(e) Expenses:

Pursuant to an Amended and Restated Investment Advisory Agreement between the investment adviser and the Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund and an Investment Advisory Agreement between the investment adviser and the Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund and Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund, the investment adviser pays the operating expenses of the funds, excluding acquired fund fees and expenses, taxes, any brokerage expenses, and extraordinary or non-routine expenses. Taxes, any brokerage expenses and extraordinary or non-routine expenses that are specific to a fund are charged directly to the fund. Acquired fund fees and expenses are indirect expenses incurred by a fund through its investments in underlying funds.

(f) U.S. Treasury, Agency Debt & Agency MBS Charges:

Due to market conditions or other reasons, delivery of U.S. Treasury securities, agency debt and agency MBS may not occur on a timely basis. In these instances, a fund may fail to receive a security purchased causing the fund to be unable to deliver a security sold. The TMPG recommends voluntary fail charges when securities are not delivered as agreed by the parties. These fail charges are included in net realized gains (losses) on sales of securities on each fund's Statement of Operations, if any.

(g) Distributions to Shareholders:

The funds, except for the Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund, declare distributions from net investment income, if any, every day they are open for business. These distributions, which are substantially equal to a fund's net investment income for that day, are paid out to shareholders once a month. The Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund declares and pays distributions from net investment income, if any, quarterly. All the funds make distributions from net realized capital gains, if any, once a year. To receive a distribution, you must be a registered shareholder on the record date. Distributions are paid to shareholders on the payable date.

(h) Accounting Estimates:

The accounting policies described in this report conform to GAAP. Notwithstanding this, shareholders should understand that in order to follow these principles, fund management has to make estimates and assumptions that affect the information reported in the financial statements. It's possible that once the results are known, they may turn out to be different from these estimates and these differences may be material.

(i) Federal Income Taxes:

The funds intend to meet federal income and excise tax requirements for regulated investment companies under subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. Accordingly, the funds distribute substantially all of their net investment income and net realized capital gains, if any, to their respective shareholders each year. As long as a fund meets the tax requirements, it is not required to pay federal income tax.

(j) Indemnification:

Under the funds' organizational documents, the officers and trustees are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the funds. In addition, in the normal course of business the funds enter into contracts with their vendors and others that provide general indemnifications. The funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the funds. However, based on experience, the funds expect the risk of loss attributable to these arrangements to be remote.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued):

(k) Regulatory Update:

Effective January 24, 2023, the SEC adopted rule and form amendments to require mutual funds and ETFs to transmit concise and visually engaging streamlined annual and semiannual reports to shareholders that highlight key information deemed important for retail investors to assess and monitor their fund investments. Other information, including financial statements, will no longer appear in a streamlined shareholder report but must be available online, delivered free of charge upon request, and filed on a semiannual basis on Form N-CSR. The rule and form amendments have a compliance date of July 24, 2024. At this time, management is evaluating the impact of these rule and form amendment changes on the content of the current shareholder report and the newly created annual and semiannual streamlined shareholder reports.

3. Risk Factors:

The funds invest mainly in corporate bonds, mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, government or municipal obligations, and other debt securities. These investments may involve certain risks, as discussed in the funds' prospectus, including, but not limited to, those described below:

Market Risk. Financial markets rise and fall in response to a variety of factors, sometimes rapidly and unpredictably. Markets may be impacted by economic, political, regulatory and other conditions, including economic sanctions and other government actions. In addition, the occurrence of global events, such as war, terrorism, environmental disasters, natural disasters and epidemics, may also negatively affect the financial markets. As with any investment whose performance is tied to these markets, the value of an investment in a fund will fluctuate, which means that an investor could lose money over short or long periods.

Investment Style Risk. The funds are index funds. Therefore, they follow the securities included in their respective index during upturns as well as downturns. Because of their indexing strategies, the funds do not take steps to reduce market exposure or to lessen the effects of a declining market. In addition, because of a fund's expenses, the fund's performance may be below that of its index. Errors relating to an index may occur from time to time and may not be identified by the index provider for a period of time. In addition, market disruptions could cause delays in the index's rebalancing schedule. Such errors and/or market disruptions may result in losses for the fund.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest rates rise and fall over time. As with any investment whose yield reflects current interest rates, a fund's yield will change over time. During periods when interest rates are low, a fund's yield (and total return) also may be low. Changes in interest rates also may affect a fund's share price: a rise in interest rates generally causes a fund's share price to fall. The longer a fund's portfolio duration, the more sensitive to interest rate movements its share price is likely to be. Also, a change in a central bank's monetary policy or economic conditions, among other things, may result in a change in interest rates, which could have sudden and unpredictable effects on the markets and significantly impact the value of fixed-income securities in which a fund invests. A sudden or unpredictable rise in interest rates may cause volatility and the value of fixed-income securities to decline.

Credit Risk. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer, guarantor or liquidity provider of a portfolio investment or a counterparty could cause the funds to lose money or underperform. The funds could lose money if, due to a decline in credit quality, the issuer, guarantor or liquidity provider of a portfolio investment or a counterparty fails to make, or is perceived as being unable or unwilling to make, timely principal or interest payments or otherwise honor its obligations.

Sampling Index Tracking Risk. An index fund may not fully replicate its respective index and may hold securities not included in the respective index. As a result, a fund is subject to the risk that the investment adviser's investment management strategy, the implementation of which is subject to a number of constraints, may not produce the intended results. If a fund utilizes a sampling approach it may not track the return of the index as well as it would if a fund purchased all of the securities in the index.

Tracking Error Risk. As index funds, each fund seeks to track the performance of its respective index, although it may not be successful in doing so. The divergence between the performance of a fund and the index, positive or negative, is called "tracking error." Tracking error can be caused by many factors and it may be significant.

Portfolio Turnover Risk. (Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund only). The fund may engage in frequent trading of its portfolio securities in connection with its tracking of the index, primarily due to the fund rolling over its positions in TBAs as it tracks the portion of the index represented by mortgage-backed securities. A higher portfolio turnover rate may result in increased transaction costs, which may lower the fund's performance. A higher portfolio turnover rate can also result in an increase in taxable capital gains distributions to the fund's shareholders.

Liquidity Risk. The funds may be unable to sell certain securities, such as illiquid securities, readily at a favorable time or price, or the funds may have to sell them at a loss.

3. Risk Factors (continued):

Concentration Risk. To the extent that a fund's or an index's portfolio is concentrated in the securities of issuers in a particular market, industry, group of industries, sector or asset class, a fund may be adversely affected by the performance of those securities, may be subject to increased price volatility and may be more vulnerable to adverse economic, market, political or regulatory occurrences affecting that market, industry, group of industries, sector or asset class.

Prepayment and Extension Risk. Certain fixed-income securities are subject to the risk that the securities may be paid off earlier or later than expected, especially during periods of falling or rising interest rates, respectively. Prepayments of obligations could cause a fund to forgo future interest income on the portion of the security's principal repaid early and force a fund to reinvest that money at the lower prevailing interest rates. Extensions of obligations could cause a fund to exhibit additional volatility and hold securities paying lower-than-market rates of interest. Either case could hurt a fund's performance.

Non-U.S. Issuer Risk. Certain funds may invest in U.S.-registered, dollar-denominated bonds of non-U.S. corporations, governments, agencies and supra-national entities. A fund's investments in bonds of non-U.S. issuers may involve certain risks that are greater than those associated with investments in securities of U.S. issuers. These include risks of adverse changes in foreign economic, political, regulatory and other conditions; the imposition of economic sanctions or other government restrictions; differing accounting, auditing, financial reporting and legal standards and practices; differing securities market structures; and higher transaction costs. These risks may be heightened in connection with bonds issued by non-U.S. corporations and entities in emerging markets.

Derivatives Risk. Certain funds may invest in derivative instruments. The principal types of derivatives used by the funds are futures contracts. A futures contract is an agreement to buy or sell a financial instrument at a specific price on a specific day. A fund's use of derivatives that are subject to regulation by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) could cause a fund to become a commodity pool, which would require the fund to comply with certain CFTC rules.

A fund's use of derivative instruments involves risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. Certain of these risks, such as market risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and leverage risk, are discussed elsewhere in this section. A fund's use of derivatives is also subject to lack of availability risk, valuation risk, correlation risk and tax risk. Lack of availability risk is the risk that suitable derivative transactions may not be available in all circumstances for risk management or other purposes. Valuation risk is the risk that a particular derivative may be valued incorrectly. Correlation risk is the risk that changes in the value of the derivative may not correlate perfectly with the underlying asset, rate or index. Tax risk is the risk that the use of derivatives may cause a fund to realize higher amounts of short-term capital gains. A fund's use of derivatives could reduce the fund's performance, increase the fund's volatility, and cause the fund to lose more than the initial amount invested. A fund's use of derivatives also could create a risk of counterparty default under certain transactions, risks that the fund would need to liquidate portfolio positions when it may not be advantageous to do so in order to meet margin and payment obligations, and legal risks relating to insufficient documentation, insufficient capacity or authority of a counterparty, or legality or enforceability of a contract.

Mortgage-Backed and Mortgage Pass-Through Securities Risk. Mortgage-backed securities tend to increase in value less than other debt securities when interest rates decline, but are subject to similar or greater risk of decline in fair value during periods of rising interest rates. Certain of the mortgage-backed securities in which a fund may invest are issued or guaranteed by agencies or instrumentalities of the U.S. government but are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. There can be no assurance that the U.S. government would provide financial support to its agencies or instrumentalities where it was not obligated to do so which can cause a fund to lose money or underperform. The risks of investing in mortgage-backed securities include, among others, interest rate risk, credit risk, prepayment risk and extension risk. Transactions in mortgage pass-through securities often occur through TBA transactions. A fund could lose money or underperform if a TBA counterparty defaults or goes bankrupt.

Mortgage Dollar Rolls Risk. Mortgage dollar rolls are transactions in which a fund sells mortgage-backed securities to a dealer and simultaneously agrees to repurchase similar securities in the future at a predetermined price. A fund's mortgage dollar rolls could lose money if the price of the mortgage-backed securities sold falls below the agreed upon repurchase price, or if the counterparty is unable to honor the agreement.

Securities Lending Risk. Securities lending involves the risk of loss of rights in, or delay in recovery of, the loaned securities if the borrower fails to return the security loaned or becomes insolvent.

Inflation-Protected Security Risk. The value of inflation-protected securities, including TIPS, generally will fluctuate in response to changes in "real" interest rates, generally decreasing when real interest rates rise and increasing when real interest rates fall. Real interest rates represent nominal (or stated) interest rates reduced by the expected impact of inflation. In addition, interest payments on inflation-indexed securities will generally vary up or down along with the rate of inflation.

3. Risk Factors (continued):

Leverage Risk. Certain fund transactions, such as derivatives transactions, TBA transactions and mortgage dollar rolls, may give rise to a form of leverage and may expose the funds to greater risk. Leverage tends to magnify the effect of any decrease or increase in the value of a fund's portfolio securities. The use of leverage may cause a fund to liquidate portfolio positions when it would not be advantageous to do so in order to satisfy its obligations.

Money Market Fund Risk. The funds may invest in underlying money market funds that either seek to maintain a stable $1.00 net asset value ("stable share price money market funds") or that have a share price that fluctuates ("variable share price money market funds"). Although an underlying stable share price money market fund seeks to maintain a stable $1.00 net asset value, it is possible to lose money by investing in such a money market fund. Because the share price of an underlying variable share price money market fund will fluctuate, when a fund sells the shares it owns they may be worth more or less than what the fund originally paid for them. In addition, neither type of money market fund is designed to offer capital appreciation. Certain underlying money market funds may impose a fee upon the sale of shares or may temporarily suspend the ability to sell shares if such fund's liquidity falls below required minimums.

Please refer to the funds' prospectus for a more complete description of the principal risks of investing in the funds.

Charles Schwab Investment Management Inc., dba Schwab Asset Management, a wholly owned subsidiary of The Charles Schwab Corporation, serves as each fund's investment adviser and administrator pursuant to an Investment Advisory and Administration Agreement between the investment adviser and the trust.

For its advisory and administrative services to the funds, the investment adviser is entitled to receive an annual fee, payable monthly, based on each fund's average daily net assets as follows:

Interfund Borrowing and Lending

Pursuant to an exemptive order issued by the SEC, the funds may enter into interfund borrowing and lending transactions with other funds in the Fund Complex. All loans are for temporary or emergency purposes and the interest rate to be charged will be the average of the overnight repurchase agreement rate and the short-term bank loan rate. All loans are subject to numerous conditions designed to ensure fair and equitable treatment of all participating funds. The interfund lending facility is subject to the oversight and periodic review by the Board. The funds had no interfund borrowing or lending activity during the period.

5. Board of Trustees:

The Board may include people who are officers and/or directors of the investment adviser or its affiliates. Federal securities law limits the percentage of such "interested persons" who may serve on a trust's board, and the trust was in compliance with these limitations throughout the report period. The funds did not pay any interested trustees or non-interested trustees (independent trustees). The independent trustees are paid by the investment adviser. For more information regarding the trustees, please refer to the Trustees and Officers table at the end of this report.

6. Borrowing from Banks:

During the period, the funds were participants with other funds in the Fund Complex in a joint, syndicated, committed $850 million line of credit (the Syndicated Credit Facility), which matured on September 29, 2022. On September 29, 2022, the Syndicated Credit Facility was amended to run for a new 364 day period with the line of credit amount increasing to $1 billion, maturing on

6. Borrowing from Banks (continued):

September 28, 2023. Under the terms of the Syndicated Credit Facility, in addition to the investment adviser paying the interest charged on any borrowings by a fund, the investment adviser paid a commitment fee of 0.15% per annum on the funds' proportionate share of the unused portion of the Syndicated Credit Facility.

During the period, the funds were participants with other funds in the Fund Complex in a joint, unsecured, uncommitted $400 million line of credit (the Uncommitted Credit Facility), with State Street Bank and Trust Company, which matured on September 29, 2022. On September 29, 2022, the Uncommitted Credit Facility was amended to run for a new 364 day period with the line of credit amount remaining unchanged, maturing on September 28, 2023. Under the terms of the Uncommitted Credit Facility, the investment adviser pays interest on the amount a fund borrows. There were no borrowings from either line of credit during the period.

The funds also have access to custodian overdraft facilities. A fund may have utilized the overdraft facility and incurred an interest expense, which is paid by the investment adviser. The interest expense is determined based on a negotiated rate above the current Federal Funds Rate.

7. Purchases and Sales/Maturities of Investment Securities:

For the period ended August 31, 2023, purchases and sales/maturities of securities (excluding short-term obligations) were as follows:

8. Federal Income Taxes:

As of August 31, 2023, the tax basis cost of the funds' investments and gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation were as follows:

	TAX COST	GROSS UNREALIZED APPRECIATION	GROSS UNREALIZED DEPRECIATION	NET UNREALIZED APPRECIATION (DEPRECIATION)
Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund	$2,911,127,962	$0	($324,810,756)	($324,810,756)
Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund	5,157,233,132	1,774,307	(523,908,949)	(522,134,642)
Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund	1,554,490,765	362,346	(52,062,712)	(51,700,366)

8. Federal Income Taxes (continued):

As of August 31, 2023, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

	UNDISTRIBUTED ORDINARY INCOME	NET UNREALIZED APPRECIATION (DEPRECIATION) ON INVESTMENTS	CAPITAL LOSS CARRYFORWARDS AND OTHER LOSSES	TOTAL
Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund	$40,849,340	($324,810,756)	($130,787,250)	($414,748,666)
Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund	2,720,901	(522,134,642)	(260, 369, 779)	(779,783,520)
Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund	1,817,856	(51,700,366)	(109,814,529)	(159,697,039)

The components of distributable earnings on a tax basis may not match the Total distributable earnings line item on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities due to other temporary timing differences. The primary difference between book basis and tax basis unrealized appreciation or unrealized depreciation of investments is the tax deferral of losses on wash sales. The tax cost of the funds' investments, disclosed above, have been adjusted from their book amounts to reflect these appreciation or depreciation differences, as applicable.

Net investment income and realized capital gains and losses may differ for financial statement and tax purposes primarily due to differing treatments of paydown gains and losses and sales on TIPS.

Capital loss carryforwards have no expiration and may be used to offset future realized capital gains for federal income tax purposes. As of August 31, 2023, the funds had capital loss carryforwards available as follows:

Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund $130,787,250
Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund 260,369,779
Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund 109,814,529

The tax basis components of distributions paid during the current and prior fiscal years were as follows:

	CURRENT FISCAL YEAR	END DISTRIBUTIONS	PRIOR FISCAL YEAR E	ND DISTRIBUTIONS
	ORDINARY INCOME	LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAINS	ORDINARY INCOME	LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAINS
Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund	$143,952,912	$21,184,284	$155,458,497	$3,460,987
Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund	130,788,565	_	110,844,252	_
Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund	42,183,526	_	22,648,972	6,434,599

Distributions paid to shareholders are based on net investment income and net realized gains determined on a tax basis, which may differ from net investment income and net realized gains for financial reporting purposes. These differences reflect the differing character of certain income items and net realized gains and losses for financial statement and tax purposes, and may result in reclassification among certain capital accounts in the financial statements. The funds may also designate a portion of the amount paid to redeeming shareholders as a distribution for tax purposes.

Permanent book and tax basis differences, which are mainly due to differing treatments of paydown gains and losses and TIPS, may result in reclassifications between components of net assets as required. The adjustments will have no impact on net assets or the results of operations.

As of August 31, 2023, management has reviewed the tax positions for open periods (for federal purposes, three years from the date of filing and for state purposes, four years from the date of filing) as applicable to the funds, and has determined that no provision for income tax is required in the funds' financial statements. The funds recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the fiscal year ended August 31, 2023, the funds did not incur any interest or penalties.

9. Subsequent Events:

Management has determined there are no subsequent events or transactions through the date the financial statements were issued that would have materially impacted the financial statements as presented.

Opinion on the Financial Statements and Financial Highlights

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, including the portfolio holdings, of Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund, Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund, and Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund (the "Funds"), three of the funds constituting Schwab Investments, as of August 31, 2023, the related statements of operations for the year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, the financial highlights for each of the four years in the period then ended, and the related notes. In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the Funds as of August 31, 2023, and the results of their operations for the year then ended, the changes in their net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the four years in the period then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The financial highlights for the year in the period ended August 31, 2019 were audited by other auditors, whose report, dated October 17, 2019, expressed an unqualified opinion on such financial highlights.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Funds' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Funds' financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Funds in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Funds are not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of their internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Funds' internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements and financial highlights, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and financial highlights. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements and financial highlights. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of August 31, 2023, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers; when replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Investment Advisory Agreement Approval

The Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act), requires that the continuation of a fund's investment advisory agreement must be specifically approved (1) by the vote of the trustees or by a vote of the shareholders of the fund, and (2) by the vote of a majority of the trustees who are not parties to the investment advisory agreement or "interested persons" of any party thereto (the Independent Trustees), cast in person at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval. In connection with such approvals, the fund's trustees must request and evaluate, and the investment adviser is required to furnish, such information as may be reasonably necessary to evaluate the terms of the investment advisory agreement.

The Board of Trustees (the Board or the Trustees, as appropriate) calls and holds one or more meetings each year that are dedicated, in whole or in part, to considering whether to renew the investment advisory and administration agreement (the Agreement) between Schwab Investments (the Trust) and Charles Schwab Investment Management, Inc. (CSIM) (dba Schwab Asset Management) (the investment adviser) with respect to the existing funds in the Trust, including Schwab Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index Fund, Schwab U.S. Aggregate Bond Index Fund and Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund (the Funds), and to review certain other agreements pursuant to which the investment adviser provides investment advisory services to certain other registered investment companies. In preparation for the meeting(s), the Board requests and reviews a wide variety of materials provided by the investment adviser, including information about the investment adviser's affiliates, personnel, business goals and priorities, profitability, third-party oversight, corporate structure and operations. As part of the renewal process, the Independent Trustees' legal counsel, on behalf of the Independent Trustees, sends an information request letter to the investment adviser seeking certain relevant information. The responses by the investment adviser are provided to the Trustees in the Board materials for their review prior to their meeting, and the Trustees are provided with the opportunity to request any additional materials. The Board also receives data provided by an independent provider of investment company data. This information is in addition to the detailed information about the Funds that the Board reviews during the course of each year, including information that relates to the Funds' operations and performance, legal and compliance matters, risk management, portfolio turnover, and sales and marketing activity. In considering the renewal, the Independent Trustees receive advice from Independent Trustees' legal counsel, including a memorandum regarding the responsibilities of trustees for the approval of investment advisory agreements. In addition, the Independent Trustees participate in question and answer sessions with representatives of the investment adviser and meet in executive session outside the presence of Fund management.

The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, considered information specifically relating to the continuance of the Agreement with respect to the Funds at meetings held on April 27, 2023 and June 6, 2023, and approved the renewal of the Agreement with respect to the Funds for an additional one-year term at the meeting on June 6, 2023 called for the purpose of voting on such approval.

The Board's approval of the continuance of the Agreement with respect to the Funds was based on consideration and evaluation of a variety of specific factors discussed at these meetings and at prior meetings, including:

- the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to each Fund under the Agreement, including the resources of the investment adviser and its affiliates dedicated to the Funds;
- 2. each Fund's investment performance and how it compared to that of certain other comparable mutual funds and benchmark data;
- 3. each Fund's expenses and how those expenses compared to those of certain other similar mutual funds;
- 4. the profitability of the investment adviser and its affiliates, including Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), with respect to each Fund, including both direct and indirect benefits accruing to the investment adviser and its affiliates; and
- the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as each Fund grows and whether fee levels in the Agreement reflect those economies of scale for the benefit of Fund investors.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Board considered the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by the investment adviser to the Funds and the resources of the investment adviser and its affiliates dedicated to the Funds. In this regard, the Trustees evaluated, among other things, the investment adviser's experience, track record, compliance program, resources dedicated to hiring and retaining skilled personnel and specialized talent, and information security resources. The Trustees also considered information provided by the investment adviser relating to services and support provided with respect to the Funds' portfolio management team, portfolio strategy, and internal investment guidelines, as well as trading infrastructure, liquidity management, product design and analysis, shareholder communications, securities valuation, and vendor and risk oversight. The Trustees also considered investments the investment adviser has made in its infrastructure, including modernizing the investment adviser's technology and use of data, increasing expertise in key areas (including portfolio management and trade operations), and improving business continuity, cybersecurity, due diligence, risk management processes, and information security programs, which are designed to provide enhanced services to the Funds and their shareholders. The Trustees considered Schwab's overall financial condition and its reputation as a full service brokerage firm, as well as the wide range of products, services and account features that benefit Fund shareholders who are brokerage clients of Schwab. Following such evaluation, the Board concluded, within the context of its full deliberations, that the nature, extent and quality of services provided by the investment adviser to the Funds and the resources of the investment adviser and its affiliates dedicated to the Funds supported renewal of the Agreement with respect to the Funds.

Fund Performance. The Board considered each Fund's performance in determining whether to renew the Agreement with respect to such Fund. Specifically, the Trustees considered each Fund's performance relative to a peer category of other mutual funds and applicable indices/benchmarks, in light of portfolio yield and the market environment, as well as in consideration of each Fund's investment style and strategy. As part of this review, the Trustees considered the composition of the peer category, selection criteria and the reputation of the independent provider of investment company data who prepared the peer category analysis. In evaluating the performance of each Fund, the Trustees considered the risk profile for such Fund and each Fund's demonstrated performance in tracking its benchmark index. The Trustees further considered the level of Fund performance in the context of their review of Fund expenses and the investment adviser's profitability discussed below and also noted that the Board and a designated committee of the Board review performance throughout the year. Although the Schwab Short-Term Bond Index Fund had performance that ranked in the fourth quartile of a relevant peer group for more than one performance period considered, the Board concluded that other factors relevant to performance supported renewal of the Agreement with respect to the Fund including that the underperformance was attributable, to a significant extent, to investment decisions by the investment adviser that were reasonable and consistent with the Fund's investment objective and policies and that it had taken steps designed to help improve performance. Following such evaluation, the Board concluded, within the context of its full deliberations, that the performance of each Fund supported renewal of the Agreement with respect to such Fund.

Fund Expenses. With respect to each Fund's expenses, the Trustees considered the rate of compensation called for by the Agreement and each Fund's operating expense ratio, in each case, in comparison to those of other similar mutual funds, such peer groups and comparisons having been selected and calculated by an independent provider of investment company data. The investment adviser reported to the Board, and the Board took into account, the risk assumed by the investment adviser in the development of the Funds and provision of services as well as the competitive marketplace for financial products. The Trustees also considered fees charged by the investment adviser to other mutual funds and exchange-traded funds that it manages. The Board evaluated the Funds' unitary fee through review of comparative information with respect to fees paid by other similar mutual funds tracking fixed income indices. Following such evaluation, the Board concluded, within the context of its full deliberations, that the expenses of each Fund are reasonable and supported renewal of the Agreement with respect to such Fund.

Profitability. The Trustees considered the compensation flowing to the investment adviser and its affiliates, directly or indirectly and reviewed profitability on a pre-tax basis, without regard to distribution expenses. The Trustees reviewed profitability of the investment adviser relating to the Schwab fund complex as a whole, noting the benefits to Fund shareholders of being part of the Schwab fund complex, including the allocations of certain costs across the Funds and other funds in the complex. The Trustees also considered any other benefits derived by the investment adviser from its relationship with the Funds, such as whether, by virtue of its management of the Funds, the investment adviser obtains investment information or other research resources that aid it in providing advisory services to other clients. The Trustees considered whether the compensation and profitability with respect to the Funds under the Agreement and other service agreements were reasonable in light of the quality of all services rendered to the Funds by the investment adviser and its affiliates. The Trustees noted that the investment adviser continues to invest substantial sums in its business in order to provide enhanced research capabilities, services and systems to benefit the Funds. Based on this evaluation, the Board concluded, within the context of its full deliberations, that the profitability of the investment adviser with respect to each Fund is reasonable and supported renewal of the Agreement with respect to such Fund.

Economies of Scale. Although the Trustees recognized the difficulty of determining economies of scale with precision, and although the Funds do not have breakpoints in their advisory fees the Trustees considered the potential existence of any economies of scale by way of the relatively low advisory fee and unitary fee structure of the Funds and whether those are passed along to a Fund's shareholders through (i) the enhancement of services provided to the Funds in return for fees paid, including through investments by the investment adviser in its infrastructure, including modernizing the investment adviser's technology and use of data, increasing expertise and capabilities in key areas (including portfolio and trade operations), and improving business continuity, cybersecurity, due diligence, and information security programs, which are designed to provide enhanced services to the Funds and their shareholders; and (ii) pricing a fund to scale and keeping overall expenses down as the fund grows. The Trustees acknowledged that the investment adviser has invested in its infrastructure, as discussed above, over time and that the investment adviser's internal costs of providing investment management, technology, administrative, legal and compliance services to the Funds continue to increase as a result of regulatory or other developments. Based on this evaluation, the Board concluded, within the context of its full deliberations, that each Fund obtains reasonable benefits from economies of scale.

In the course of their deliberations, the Trustees may have accorded different weights to various factors and did not identify any particular information or factor that was all important or controlling. Based on the Trustees' deliberation and their evaluation of the information described above, the Board, including all of the Independent Trustees, approved the continuation of the Agreement with respect to the Funds and concluded that the compensation under the Agreement with respect to the Funds is fair and reasonable in light of the services provided and the related expenses borne by the investment adviser and its affiliates and such other matters as the Trustees considered to be relevant in the exercise of their reasonable judgment.

² Mr. Bettinger and Mr. Wurster are Interested Trustees. Mr. Bettinger and Mr. Wurster are Interested Trustees because each owns stock of The Charles Schwab Corporation (CSC), the parent company of Charles Schwab Investment Management, Inc., the investment adviser for the trusts in the Fund Complex, and is an employee of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), the principal underwriter for The Charles Schwab Family of Funds, Schwab Investments, Schwab Capital Trust, Schwab Annuity Portfolios and Laudus Trust.

The President, Treasurer and Secretary/Clerk hold office until their respective successors are chosen and qualified or until he or she sooner dies, resigns, is removed or becomes disqualified. Each of the other officers serves at the pleasure of the Board.

agency discount notes Notes issued by federal agencies—known as Government Sponsored Enterprises, or GSEs—at a discount to their value at maturity. An agency discount note is a short-term investment offering a high degree of credit quality.

Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) A federal income tax designed to limit the extent to which high-income taxpayers (including individuals, estates, trusts and corporations) can benefit from certain deductions and exemptions. For example, some types of income that are exempt from regular federal income tax are not exempt from the AMT.

asset allocation The practice of dividing a portfolio among different asset classes, with each asset class assigned a particular percentage.

asset-backed securities Bond or other debt securities that represent ownership in a pool of assets such as credit card debt.

asset class A group of securities with similar structure and basic characteristics. Stocks, bonds and cash are the three main examples of asset classes.

average rate The average rate of interest paid annually by the fixed-income securities in a fund or portfolio.

Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index An index that is a broad-based benchmark measuring the performance of the U.S. investment grade, taxable bond market, including U.S. Treasuries, government-related and corporate bonds, mortgage pass-through securities, commercial mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities that are publicly available for sale in the United States. To be eligible for inclusion in the index, securities must be fixed rate, non-convertible, U.S. dollar-denominated with at least $300 million or more of outstanding face value and have one or more years remaining to maturity. The index excludes certain types of securities, including tax-exempt state and local government series bonds, structured notes embedded with swaps or other special features, private placements, floating rate securities, inflation-linked bonds and Eurobonds. The index is market capitalization weighted and the securities in the index are updated on the last business day of each month.

Bloomberg US Government/Credit 1-5 Year Index An index that is a broad-based benchmark measuring the performance of U.S. dollar-denominated U.S. Treasury bonds, government related bonds (i.e., U.S. and non-U.S. agencies, sovereign, quasi-sovereign, supranational and local authority debt) and investment grade U.S. corporate bonds that have a remaining maturity of greater than or equal to one year and less than five years. To be eligible for inclusion in the index, securities must be fixed rate, non-convertible, U.S. dollar-denominated with at least $300 million or more of outstanding face value and have a remaining maturity greater than or equal to one year and less than five years. The index excludes certain types of securities, including, bonds with equity type features (e.g., warrants, convertibles and preferreds), tax-exempt municipal securities, inflation-linked bonds, floating rate issues, strips, private placements, U.S. dollar-denominated 25 and 50 par retail bonds, structured notes and pass-through certificates. The index is market capitalization weighted and the securities in the index are updated on the last business day of each month.

Bloomberg US Treasury Inflation-Linked Bond Index (Series-L) An index which includes all publicly-issued U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) that have at least one year remaining to maturity, are rated investment grade and have $500 million or more of outstanding face value. The TIPS in the index must be denominated in U.S. dollars and must be fixed-rate and non-convertible. The index is market capitalization weighted and the TIPS in the index are updated on the last business day of each month. TIPS are publicly issued, dollar denominated U.S. Government securities issued by the U.S. Treasury that have principal and interest payments linked to an official inflation measure (as measured by the Consumer Price Index, or CPI) and their payments are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States.

bond A security representing a loan from the investor to the issuer. A bond typically pays interest at a fixed rate (the coupon rate) until a specified date (the maturity date), at which time the issuer returns the money borrowed (principal or face value) to the bondholder. Because of their structure, bonds are sometimes called "fixed-income securities" or "debt securities."

An individual bond is subject to the credit risk of the issuer. Changes in interest rates can affect a bond's market value prior to call or maturity. There is no guarantee that a bond's yield to call or maturity will provide a positive return over the rate of inflation.

bond fund A bond fund is subject to the same credit, interest rate, and inflation risks as bonds. In addition, a bond fund incurs ongoing fees and expenses. A bond fund's net asset value will fluctuate with the price of the underlying bonds and the portfolio turnover activity; return of principal is not guaranteed.

call An early repayment of a bond's principal by the issuer, usually done because the issuer is able to refinance its bond debt at a lower rate call protection A term used in reference to a bond that cannot be called by the issuer before maturity, or at least for many years from the present date. A bond that offers call protection can more reliably be expected to provide a given yield over a given number of years than a bond that could be called (assuming both bonds are of the same credit quality).

capital gain, capital loss The difference between the amount paid for an investment and its value at a later time. If the investment has been sold, the capital gain or loss is considered a realized gain or loss. If the investment is still held, the gain or loss is still "on paper" and is considered unrealized.

certificate of participation A municipal bond that is repaid from an annual budget appropriation rather than being backed by the full faith and credit of the issuer.

commercial mortgage-backed securities Bond or other debt securities that represent ownership in a pool of commercial mortgage loans.

coupon, coupon rate The annual rate of interest paid until maturity by the issuer of a debt security.

credit-enhanced securities Securities that are backed by the credit of an entity other than the issuer (such as a financial institution). Credit enhancements, which can equal up to 100% of the security's value, are designed to help lower the risk of default on a security and may also make the security more liquid.

credit quality The capacity of an issuer to make its interest and principal payments; an assessment typically rendered by an independent third-party organization.

credit risk The risk that a bond issuer may be unable to pay interest or principal to its bondholders.

Schwab Taxable Bond Funds

discount rate The implied rate on a debt security that does not pay interest but is bought at a discount and redeemed at face value when it matures duration A measure of an individual bond's sensitivity to interest rates, expressed in years. Calculations of duration generally take into account the bond's yield, interest payments, maturity date and call features.

weighted average duration A measure of the duration of all bonds in a fund's portfolio, also expressed in years, based on the market value weighted average duration of each bond in the portfolio.

expense ratio The amount that is taken from a mutual fund's assets each year to cover the fund's operating expenses. An expense ratio of 0.50% means that a fund's expenses amount to half of one percent of its average net assets a year.

general obligation bonds Municipal bonds that are secured by the issuer's full faith and credit, which typically is backed by the power of the issuer to levy taxes.

interest Payments to bondholders (usually made twice a year) as compensation for loaning the bond principal to the issuer.

interest rate risk The risk that a bond's value will fluctuate if market interest rates change or are expected to change. Bond prices tend to move in the opposite direction of interest rates: when interest rates rise, bond prices tend to fall.

liquidity-enhanced security A security that when tendered is paid from funds advanced by an entity other than the issuer (such as a large financial institution). Liquidity enhancements are often used on variable-rate securities where the portfolio manager has an option to tender the securities prior to their final maturity.

market risk Those elements of risk that are common to all securities in an asset class, and therefore cannot be significantly reduced by diversification within the asset class. Also known as "systemic risk."

maturity The maturity of a bond will generally be determined using a portfolio security's final maturity date (date on which the final principal payment of a bond is scheduled to be paid); however, for securitized products, such as mortgage-backed securities and certain other asset-backed securities, maturity will be determined on an average life basis (weighted average time to receipt of all principal payments) by the investment adviser. Because pre-payment rates of individual mortgage pools vary widely, the average life of a particular pool cannot be predicted precisely. For securities with embedded demand features, such as puts or calls, either the demand date or the final maturity date will be used depending on interest rates, yields and other market conditions. The weighted average maturity (WAM) of a fund is dollar-weighted based upon the market value of a fund's securities at the time of the calculation.

mortgage-backed securities Bond or other debt securities that represent ownership in a pool of mortgage loans.

muni, municipal bonds, municipal securities Debt securities issued by a state, its counties, municipalities, authorities and other subdivisions, or the territories and possessions of the United States and the District of Columbia, including their subdivisions, agencies and instrumentalities and corporations. These securities may be issued to obtain money for various public purposes, including the construction of a wide range of public facilities such as airports, bridges, highways, housing, hospitals, mass transportation, public utilities, schools, streets, and water and sewer works.

net asset value (NAV) The value of one share of a mutual fund. NAV is calculated by taking the fund's total assets, subtracting liabilities, and dividing by the number of shares outstanding.

outstanding shares, shares outstanding When speaking of a company or mutual fund, indicates all shares currently held by investors.

prepayment risk The risk that a mortgage-backed security may be paid off early, typically because interest rates have fallen and the homeowners who hold the underlying mortgages have refinanced those mortgages at lower rates. In this type of situation, the investor who held the mortgage-backed security will usually have to settle for a lower rate when reinvesting the principal.

refunded bond A bond for which the principal and interest payments are secured or guaranteed by cash or U.S. government securities held in an escrow account.

restricted securities Securities that are subject to contractual restrictions on resale. These securities are often purchased in private placement transactions.

revenue bonds Municipal bonds that are issued to finance public works projects and are secured by revenue generated by the project (such as water and sewer fees) rather than the full faith and credit of the issuer.

section 4(2)/144A securities Securities exempt from registration under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933. These securities may be sold only to qualified institutional buyers under Securities Act Rule 144A.

taxable equivalent yield The yield an investor would need to get from a taxable investment in order to match the yield paid by a given tax-exempt investment, once the effect of all applicable taxes is taken into account. For example, if your tax rate were 25%, a tax-exempt investment paying 4.5% would have a taxable equivalent yield for you of 6.0% $(4.5\% \div [1 - 0.25\%] = 6.0\%)$.

total return The percentage that an investor would have earned or lost on an investment in the fund assuming dividends and distributions were reinvested.

weighted average For mutual funds, an average that gives the same weight to each security as the security represents in the fund's portfolio.

yield The income paid out by an investment, expressed as a percentage of the investment's market value.

yield to maturity The annualized rate of return a bondholder could expect if the bond were held to maturity. In addition to interest payments, yield to maturity also factors in any difference between a bond's current price and its principal amount, or face value.
